Re: TOMMY DEVITO–THEN AND NOW

Dear Mr. Guillot:

After considering the arguments presented in your second request for reconsideration for registration, the Copyright Office Review Board is accepting your supplementary registration for the work "Tommy DeVito–Then and Now."

The Board agrees with you that the previous refusals, which were based on the principle that only parties identified in basic registration records are eligible to submit applications for supplementary registration, departed from the current requirements as they are found in Copyright Office regulations and written examining practices. However, please be aware that the Copyright Office will be proposing a regulatory revision, prospective in its effect, to limit eligibility for supplementary registration to persons / parties actually identified in the basic registration for a given work.

After the application for supplementary registration for this work is processed, a certificate of registration will be issued.

Sincerely,

/S/
